A QUIET STUDY HALL

MR. PAUL J. KELLEY
Superintendent
B. S. South Dakota State
M. S. U. of Nebraska

Over the years it has been my pleasure to observe the enthusiasm, the effort and the satisfaction of students in putting their yearbook or school annual together. There are reasons why each new group of students displays such great interest in "their yearbook".

The production of the yearbook is a new experience for each class. The product is always original; no other book in the world is exactly like it.

Each yearbook will become part of each student in years to come. It will have a very special meaning for the students who planned it, worked on it and then watched the enthusiasm of their fellow students when they all received their copies.

Congratulations, Staff of 1970, for a job well done.
